

Meeting community needs in North Carolina. More than 28,000 people of all ages and backgrounds are helping to solve problems and strengthen communities through 112 national service projects across North Carolina. Serving with national and community nonprofit organizations, faith-based groups, schools, and local agencies, these citizens tutor and mentor children, coordinate after-school programs, build homes, conduct neighborhood patrols, organize local homeland security efforts, respond to disasters, and recruit and manage volunteers. This year, the Corporation for National and Community Service will provide more than $13,200,000 to support North Carolina communities through three major programs:

Senior Corps: More than 9,700 seniors in North Carolina contribute their time and talents in one of three programs: Foster Grandparents, who serve one-on-one with more than 2,600 young people who have special needs; Senior Companions, who help more than 900 other seniors live independently in their homes; and RSVP volunteers, who work with more than 1,000 local groups to meet a wide range of community needs, including safety patrols with local police departments, environmental projects, tutoring and mentoring, and responding to natural disasters.

AmeriCorps: This year, more than 800 individuals are serving in North Carolina communities as AmeriCorps members. In return, the members receive an education award of up to $4,725 to help pay for college or pay back student loans. To date, more than 2,400 North Carolina residents have qualified for education awards totaling more than $10,000,000. Two-thirds of AmeriCorps grants are made by the North Carolina Commission on Volunteerism and Community Service. National nonprofits, such as Habitat for Humanity and Public Allies, make other assignments. Other members serve in AmeriCorps*VISTA, and AmeriCorps*NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps).

Learn and Serve America: Learn and Serve America provides schools, colleges, and community organizations with grants for service-learning. These grants help make it possible for more than 18,000 North Carolina students to meet community needs while improving their civic and academic skills and learning the habits of good citizenship.

"Volunteering is an investment in our state that results in immeasurable benefits. It is important that we recognize these North Carolinians who make a difference every day in their local communities through selfless acts of service. Government has an important role to play in our lives, but it can never take the place of community spirit and the compassion we show for each other."
Governor Michael Easley

Through the President's Student Service Challenge, students in kindergarten through college receive presidential recognition for their outstanding community service. Students who serve 100 hours or more are eligible for a President's Student Service Award. Since 1999, more than 1,228 North Carolina students have received this award. In the President's Student Service Scholarship program, two students from each high school may receive a $1,000 college scholarship for outstanding service to the community. Since 1997, more than 642 North Carolina students have received these scholarships.

The National Service-Learning Leader Schools program recognizes middle and high schools for their excellence in service-learning. Ramsey Street Alternative Middle School in Fayetteville, Ferndale Middle School in Highpoint, Piedmont High School in Monroe, Madison Middle School in Marshall, Ligon Gifted and Talented Magnet Middle School in Raleigh, Southern Wayne High School in Dudley, Jamesville High School, and Louisburg High School have been recognized as Leader Schools.
